Note

(SR 529/91-92)

Mr. S. Venkatranga Iyengar was as sheristedar of the Excise Commr's office was drawing Rs 200/-. He was given Rs 250/- from 2nd November 96 to rise to Rs 300/- by annual increment of Rs 25/-. His pay from 1st November 1996 is therefore Rs 300/-. On the recommendation made by the Excise Commr., the designation of "sheristedar" was changed into "Assistant to the Excise Commr." in respect and Mr. Venkatranga Iyengar was appointed as Assistant to the Excise Commr. in notification no 487 of dis 930 3rd November 97 (file no. - of 97) The Excise Commr. in a subsequent letter re-requested sanction to the entertainment of two peons for his Assistant, when it was directed in Govt proc of 17th January 1908 (Sl no 5 of file no 5 of 97), that Govt did not consider such an establishment necessary as Mr S Venkat Ranganagar was only an Office assistant, and as his official designation was changed merely to enable him to sign papers for the Excise Comm^r etc. On a communication made by the Excise Comm^r in march 1907, selecting that the rates of batta & mileage and Railway fare sanctioned in Govt proc no 4616-19 P & # 487 dated 26th September 1900, for the Assistant to the Director of Archæological Researches may be made applicable to Mr Venkatrangayar, Government after some discussion next, when he will have put in the requisite period of three years' service from the date of his having got the present pay of Rs 300/-. I have now recommended Mr. Venkata Ranjiengar for the first time to the rank of an Assistant Commissioner. My predecessors in Office, Messrs Vijayendra Rao and Ricketts also recommended him for it. Vide copies of their office communications etc, herewith sent, for ready reference, as per particulars below:-

WB

(1) Letter no 4065/383, dated 28th March 1895, and its enclosure

(2) Letter no 4184/398, dated 8th April 1895.

(3) Letter no 4474/427, dated 25th April 1895.

(4) Extract of para 87(4) of the Excise Administration report for the year 1894-95

(5) Extract of Mr. Ricketts' remarks from the Service Register of Mr. Venkata Ranjiengar

2. I think I should in justice to Mr. Venkata Ranjiengar, bring his hard case for the consideration of Government. If not according to him the rank of an Assistant Commissioner he will be a loser henceforth according to the revised Travelling allowance, even in regard to his trainage rates. Till now he drew double first class fare, his pay being over Rs 250/-. But now as he is only allowed to draw Rs 3/- batta per day, he can only be allowed double second class fare. This is a positive pulling down as enumerated, as is the distinction hard to be understood between an Assistant to the Head of the Excise Department and an Assistant to the Head of the Archaeological Department. Both are Office Assistants and both are not shown in the graded list of Assistant Commissioners. The case of the Chief Observer who is the Assistant to the Head of the Meteorological Department, and of the Personal Assistant to the Chief Commandant appear also to be not different. Apart from the mere travelling allowance, Mr. Venkata Ranjiengar has, I may be permitted to submit, suffered his supercessions long and has made heavy sacrifices for whatever his demerits may have been. I think in consideration of his good and able services repeatedly acknowledged, he may now be accorded a more favorable & gracious consideration and given all the emoluments and the rank of Assistant Commissioners. This will give him his present rates of travelling allowances, batta, equal to that of his compeers on parallel lines and the increment to his pay which after three years' approved service, the Extra Assistant Commissioners usually get. I trust that in the later or almost last days of his official career he may be raised in status to a rank which by his abilities & deserts he should have long attained but for untoward and unfavorable circumstances & conditions.

of

Dated Bangalore, 13.7.1902

SIR,

I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of letter, No.558-Ex.F.5-97, dated the 16th June 1902, from the Secretary to the Government of Mysore, General and Revenue Departments, on the subject of the promotion of Mr. Venkatarangaiengar to an Extra Assistant Commissioner-ship.

2. In the circumstances now reported, the protest of the First Councillor against resolution XII of the Mysore Council dated the 14th April 1902 appears to have been made under some misapprehension. In these cases, it would have been convenient had the mistake been at once set right or if a foot-note explanatory of the misapprehension had been added to the proceedings.
